COUPLA' THINGZ YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT DA PINBALL TWINZ FOR DA NEW COMIC!

DA PLAYAZ

BRÏAN "CELLAR HOLE" STONE

This older-by-minutes twin is the Don Juan of the famous pinball playing duo, The "Pinball Twinz".

His smoldering good looks and impeccable enunciation handily win the hearts and privates of lady pinball fans worldwide, including several of his twin brother's fiancées! He routinely explains away his unapologetic treachery with the trademarked catchphrase: 'I gotz to getz minez".

Brï is celebrated by the industry for pioneering his trademarked "Cooked Goose" style of play. In order to distract his opponents during gameplay, he loudly mimics the imagined sounds of a trussed goose being cooked alive. When he finds himself in disagreement with others or simply can't tolerate attention being shown to anyone but himself, Brï will cut speakers off mid-sentence by decrying them as a 'goose' and other times simply dismiss them as being 'too corny'.

This behavior is widely regarded as his most endearing trait.

BRŸAN “GOBBLE HOLE” STONE

He’s got a short fuse and his frequent outbursts of unrestrained/unfocused anger are universally disproportionate any given situation, so it’s no surprise to find out that this emotionally unstable twin has got a major chip on his shoulder! No remark, regardless of how innocuous or offhand it may be will escape his notice and is taken as a personal slight of the highest order.

Alternately describing himself as “a Pinball Wiz” and “a worthless piece of shiz”, Brÿ is both unpredictable and a fan-favorite ‘heel’ on the Pinball circuit due to his willingness to engage with crowds both physically and verbally. He often peppers fans with biting unpleasantries such as “You my butler!” and “You suck! You got no charisma!” and curiously “I can’t control my horny level!”

Some have suggested that Brÿ’s erratic behavior could be a serious symptom of undiagnosed chronic CTE due to being repeatedly knocked unconscious by various projectiles hurled by rowdy spectators. He is known amongst female Pinball Twinz groupies as “Thumper Bumper” and his favorite color is ‘all dem shitz’.

TÏLTON “TÏLT’ STONE-HORSEAPPLEZ III

Tilton, best known for his frivolous hate-crime lawsuit against the ‘Tilted Kilt’ and Weird Al Yankovic who parodied Tilt in the viral video “Kilted Tilt” was born in 1988 and is the Pinball Twinz’ long-suffering cameraman as well as their paternal cousin. Tilt, as he’s not so affectionately known, was thrust upon the Twinz by domineering father, Gerry in exchange for providing the Twinz video budgets.

Tilton has been rejected by NYU film school for eleven consecutive years, yet remains unrealistically optimistic regarding admission to the program.

Branded a firebug as a youth, Tilton spent nearly six years in ‘Boyz Town’ (see glossary) for starting a fire which swept through his family home and then spread to several neighboring domiciles. The blaze caused nearly one million dollars in damage and killed three people.

Tilt was eventually exonerated when in a deathbed confession, his father, Tilton Horseapplez II, admitted to starting the fire so as to not have to attend a baby shower later that afternoon. Several witnesses stated that the senior Tilton’s last words were “My dud of a son taking the fall for MY crime was too perfect”.

Gerry Stone

Pinball magnate and Stone family patriarch, Gerry Stone grew up in Bedford Falls, NY. In 1957 at the age of 7, his imagination was captured by a news report of a new toy called a 'frisbee'. He broke open his piggy bank and set out to buy one at the local Woolworth. Unfortunately for young Gerry, the most prolific child murderer in American history, Potter "The Butcher of Bedford" Odbody, was prowling the streets of Bedford Falls around that time and abducted Gerry moments after the boy had purchased his new frisbee, which was found 70 miles away in the Park Hill section of Staten Island.

Young Gerry was presumed dead until he suddenly reappeared eleven years later in 1968 at the age of 18. Evidently, Odbody eschewed child abduction after kidnapping Gerry and instead kept the boy captive in his home for purposes Stone has never revealed.

Though Gerry has never given a formal interview about the time he spent with the serial killer in the heavily populated Staten Island neighborhood, an official report states that one day, after Odbody visited a particularly brutal attack upon Gerry, he got the idea to simply pretend to be dead. Odbody's young companion being (presumably) deceased greatly upset him and without warning, the Butcher of Bedford Falls committed suicide by downing a container of Bowlene mixed with turpentine and then blew his brains out with a zip gun while standing over the teen.

After telling his harrowing tale to the police, Gerry was immediately arrested and charged with negligent homicide for 'death by misadventure' under New York's archaic 'Playing Possum' law. He was later sentenced to six years in Sing Sing prison, four of which were spent in solitary confinement.

Upon his release, Gerry headed west to Los Angeles where he met Ginger Rad (who he'd eventually wed) at a local peep show. Gerry and Ginger then moved to Chicago and became live-in caretakers for her great-grandmother who was dying of tertiary syphilis. Ginger received a small inheritance when her great-grandmother died from injuries sustained in a suspicious fall from the 11th story window of the apartment the three shared in Chicago's infamous Cabrini-Green homes.

The inheritance along with a judgement won against the Chicago Housing Authority seeded the investment for Stone Pinball Inc.

As of July 2018 Gerry still oversees daily operations at Stone Pinball and is defending himself in a multi-million dollar class action lawsuit brought against the Gerry Stone Online School of Pinballing. He is estranged from his wife, Ginger as well as his children Brittney and Roman.

GINGER STONE

Ginger Stone née Rad is the estranged wife of Gerry Stone and mother of the Pinball Twinz. Born in Cincinnati Ohio in 1956, Ginger moved to Los Angeles at 20 years old to take on Hollywood and become a movie star. After a few false starts, Ginger landed what became a recurring non-speaking extra role as a dead prostitute on the Jack Klugman vehicle 'Quincy M.D.'.

After her fourth appearance as 'dead-ass hooker' Ginger claimed that she was having an affair with Klugman and planned to sell the story to "TV Star Parade" magazine. She was fired and subsequently blacklisted by the Quincy M.E. producers. Ginger's planned auto-biography which she said contained explicitly detailed affairs with not only Jack Klugman but James Garner, Dennis Weaver, Victor French, Carol O' Connor, John Amos, Robbie Rist, Fisher Stevens/Shaun Cassidy and Rudy Ray Moore, went unpublished due to serious concerns regarding the validity of her claims and obscenity laws in effect at the time.

Ginger met her future husband, Gerry Stone, in 1977 at a makeshift peep show in "Funkytown", a crime-ridden 'tent city' located under the Hollywood exit overpass on the 101 Freeway where Ginger was residing at the time. They married the next day in Las Vegas and then moved to Chicago, IL.

Over the next decade, Gerry started Stone Pinball Inc and Ginger settled into life as a disenchanted, suburban housewife and gave birth to four children, Brittney, Brï, Brÿ, and Roman Stone. She also had a brief stint as the spokesmodel for 'Philly Will's Pawn, Sundries and Lingerie' before alleging an affair with Philly Will on-camera minutes into the shoot. She was immediately terminated and the commercial never aired.

On Easter morning,1995, Ginger was taken to task by the Twinz when they discovered that a VHS cassette which had previously contained six hours of SLP footage of the their puppy 'Slingshot' dry-humping assorted household items, had been used to tape old episodes of 'Quincy M.D.' using SP.

An altercation ensued upon which the Twinz and Gerry began verbally attacking Ginger and leveling accusations against her such as 'adulteress, sodomite, and Puppy-movie-taper-over'. Later that day, Ginger left with only her purse and Slingshot the puppy.

No one from the Stone family ever heard from her again and her current whereabouts are unknown.

FIVE FAST FACTZ

1) THEY'RE TWINS!: The Pinball Twinz are actually identical twins, born in Staten Island, NY on March 23rd 1984 to Gerry and Ginger Stone. Everyone marvels at their youthful looks, but YES, they're only 34 so please stop asking!! The Twinz have an older sister, Brittany 'Autoplunger' Stone who was born in 1980 and younger brother Roman 'Multi-ball' Stone born in 1986. Records are sealed, and no official reason has ever been offered, but despite having both older and younger siblings, the twins were given up for adoption in 1996 and subsequently re-adopted in 2004 at the age of 20 when the orphanage threatened litigation against the Stone Pinball empire if the boys weren't reclaimed within ten business days.

2) THEY ALMOST WEREN'T TWINS!: Who knew Ginger Stone was pregnant with twins?! After Brï was born, Brÿ went completely unnoticed and was nearly heaved into the hospital's incinerator along with assorted body parts, tumors, late-term abortions, and other biomedical waste. If not for the sharp-eared, maintenance man who rescued newborn Brÿ, Gerry Stone may never have created the most iconic and profitable horror-themed pinball machine in history, 'Living Tragedy', which was largely based on the event.

3) THEY'RE QUICK AS BUNNIES!: In today's PC, feel-good climate, the 'woke' would rush to call it child abuse, but in order to boost the twinz' innate pinball talent to its maximum potential, Gerry Stone regularly subjected them to a battery of reflex based exercises including, but not limited to: The 'Grape Nut challenge' in which Gerry spread Grape Nut cereal on the kitchen floor and the boys would be forced to crawl across it while whistling the tune of the cereal's commercial jingle. In yet another skill sharpening drill, Gerry utilized a 'wrist rocket' to bombard the boys, who were expected to dodge and avoid, with pinballs in a fashion comparable to the beloved 'shoot the geek' booth, commonly found along many Jersey shore boardwalks.

4) THEY'RE REHABILITATED!: Though they spent a number of their teenage years in Staten Island's scandal-plagued juvenile detention center 'Boyz Town', the twins emerged reformed, if not still unadoptable. While incarcerated, they earned Masters degrees from both Hardverd and Datmouf as well as a doctorate in Pinballology from the Gerry Stone Online School of Pinballing which at press time could not provide documentation of its accreditation. An oft-repeated rumor claims that the detention center's budget was so low that they had no letter 'S' for the prison signage and in a pinch, substituted it with a 'Z', hence, Boyz Town. Replacing an 'S' with a 'Z' is The Pinball Twinz signature heterography and acknowledged by fans and academics both as the duo staying true to their gangsta' roots.

5) THEY'RE GIFTED MUSICIANS!: Blessed with near-perfect pitch and an intuitive ability to lip sync, the Pinball Twinz formed a Limp Bizkit tribute band, Goose Eulogy, after meeting Fred Durst at a Stone pinball event and are managed by world-renowned music producer, Jackpot Jones. They currently have major beef with Stiff Bizkit, Europe's premiere Limp Bizkit tribute band.

5.5) VOCABULARY: They only date women with expansive and rich vocabularies. Aka: "Eloquent n articulate hoez"
